The newest addition to the Mike Monroney Aeronautical Center in Oklahoma City is the Radar Training Facility (RTF), which was dedicated on July 18, 1980. The RTF provides all incoming air traffic control students with a course of basic radar training. The evaluation process and the pass/fail criteria for the course were developed from the Civil Aeromedical Institute's research studies that appear in Office of Aviation Medicine Reports Nos. 80-5 and 80-15.
