

Transit Profiles The Thirty Largest Agencies

For the 1995 National Transit Database Report Year CAUTION: Extensive efforts have been made to assure the quality of information contained in this report. It is impossible, however, to achieve complete accuracy and consistency of the reported data. In addition, the reported data do not include all relevant information generally necessary to explain apparent differences in performance (e.g., information related to work rules, topography, climate, and unusual events such as strikes and service start-ups). Users of this report, therefore, should be careful not to draw unwarranted conclusions based solely on the data contained herein.

Transit Profiles The Thirty Largest Agencies

For the 1995 National Transit Database Report Year

Gordon J. Linton Administrator Federal Transit Administration

December 1996

Introduction

This publication consists of consolidated profiles for the thirty (30) largest transit agencies in the United States for the 1995 Report Year. The 1995 Report Year includes transit agencies with their fiscal years ending during the 1995 calendar year. The criterion for determining the largest transit agencies is operating funds expended. Each profile consists of general and summary reports, as well as modal, performance and trend indicators.

Each transit agency has a unique publication name in order to provide a user-friendly and easily understood document. Many transit agencies have similar names such as "Mass Transportation Authority" or "Regional Transit District." The publication name emphasizes the urbanized area to help with geographical location and to show relationships with regional governing bodies and with purchased transportation providers.

The left page of each profile shows both general and financial information. General information includes the Urbanized Area Statistics, Service Area Statistics, Service Consumption, Service Supplied, and the Vehicles Operated in Maximum Service. Financial information includes the Sources of Operating Funds Expended, Summary of Operating Expenses, Sources of Capital Funds Expended, and Uses of Capital Funds.

Two pie charts at the bottom of the page graphically depict the Sources of Operating Funds Expended and Sources of Capital Funds Expended. If there are no expenditures or if all expenditures are from one source, then the profile excludes the pie chart.

The right page of the profile portrays transit service characteristics by mode. The profile includes only the four modes with the largest operating expenses. If a transit agency operates Bus (MB) and Heavy Rail (HR) modes, the data always appear in columns one and two, respectively. Additional modes appear in columns three and four in descending order of their operating expense. For each mode there is financial data, service characteristics and performance measures. The performance measures characterize service efficiency, cost effectiveness and service effectiveness.

At the bottom of the right page are line graphs to show trends in data for the 1991 through 1995 report years. The line graphs portray performance measures for the modes in columns one and two. Inconsistent patterns on the line graphs are due to reporting anomalies. Reasons for these anomalies include: (1) the transit agency commenced reporting after 1991; (2) the transit agency added a new mode and/or type of service; (3) the transit agency did not file a report for one or more years; (4) the transit agency received a reporting waiver for some financial and/or operating data; or, (5) the transit agency reported questionable data that FTA partially or wholly deleted from the database; and, (6) all transit agencies began reporting fully allocated expenses by mode in 1992 (i.e., the elimination of joint expense reporting).

For a transit agency with purchased transportation relationships with a provider(s) filing its own National Transit Database (NTD) report(s), the profile consolidates the report of the transit agency and the purchased transportation provider(s). This provides a comprehensive summary of financial performance (operating funds expended and operating expenses) and service supplied and consumed. For a consolidated profile, the NTD identification numbers of the purchased transportation provider(s) are listed. The Urbanized Area Statistics, Service Area Statistics, Source of Operating Funds Expended, Summary of Operating Expenses, Sources of Capital Funds Expended, and Uses of Capital Funds are those of the transit agency buying the service. All other items are aggregates of the data or computations using the aggregated data. However, there are differences between the transit agency and its provider(s) in operating expenses due to other costs incurred by the transit agency as a buyer of service, profit by the seller, and different fiscal years of the buyer and seller(s).

For the 1995 Report Year, all purchased transportation expenses are in the Purchased Transportation line item under the Summary of Operating Expenses. In prior years, the Salaries/Wages/Benefits, Materials and Supplies, and Other Operating Expenses line items included the expenses of the purchased transportation providers filing separate reports. In addition, there were several corrections in the data aggregation procedure for the consolidated profiles. Specifically, Average Fleet Age and Peak to Base Ratio reflect aggregated data. In prior years, these data items did not include the purchased transportation provider(s) filing a separate report(s). Also, Fixed Guideway Directional Route Miles is no longer a direct aggregation of data; there is no duplicate segment mileage.

Questionable (Q), and Waived (W) data items are in the affected Transit Profiles. See the '1995 Data Tables for additional information.

Appendix A provides an aggregate total for the thirty (30) largest transit agencies including the consolidated reports. This profile reflects the same data aggregation procedures as the consolidated profiles. The Other category includes aggregate data for automated guideway, cable car, ferryboat, inclined plane, trolleybus, and vanpool modes.

Appendix B provides a Cross Reference Table for the location of each data item in the NTD report filed by the transit agency. If the data item is a computation, Appendix B states the formula.

Appendix C provides a Cross Reference Table for each data item in the eight consolidated reports included in this publication. If the data item is a computation, Appendix C states the formula.
