CIVIL AIR REGULATIONS - BLANKET AMENDMENT

CHANGE OF REFERENCES FROM TERM "CIVIL AIRWAY" TO "FEDERAL AIRWAY"

While the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, defined and referred to the term "Civil airway," the new Federal Aviation Act of 1958 utilizes the term "Federal airway." In order to reflect this change of terminology, it is necessary to amend all the Civil Air Regulations and Special Civil Air Regulations which refer to a civil airway by specifying therein the term "Federal airway."

Since this amendment is required for conformance with the Federal Aviation Act and imposes no additional burden upon any person, it may be made effective immediately and without prior notice to the public.

In consideration of the foregoing, all pertinent regulations contained in Chapter I are amended as follows: Whenever the term "Civil airway" is used in the caption or text of the foregoing regulations substitute the words "Federal airway" and such other words as the context of the regulations shall require.

This amendment shall be effective upon the date of its publication in the Federal Register.
