LEARNING IN PROGRESS

JULY 2018

New Training Focused on Effective Target Setting

NHI unveils a new Web-based Training this month, Effective Target Setting for Transportation Performance Management (TPM). Like its Instructor-led counterpart, this course focuses on developing a performance-based management approach when setting targets within a performance management context.

This 6.5 hour training teaches participants how to develop and set performance targets that will support progress toward their agency's strategic goals. Concepts are made tangible through mock scenarios and fictitious case studies.
