SUMMARY OF AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Date: May 15, 1996
Initiated by: AFS-610

AC No. 39-6R
Change

ANNOUNCEMENT OF AVAILABILITY

1. PURPOSE. This circular provides information concerning how to obtain the latest edition of the subject publication.
2. CANCELLATION. Advisory Circular 39-6Q, dated February 15, 1994, is canceled.
3. BACKGROUND. An airworthiness directive (AD) contains information regarding an unsafe condition which exists in an aircraft, aircraft engine, propeller, or appliance when that condition is likely to exist or develop in other products of the same type design. No person may operate a product to which an AD applies, except in accordance with the requirements of the AD. All AD's are summarized and published in paper copy, microfiche, and electronic format.
4. CHANGES. The following changes have been made to the 1996 Summary of AD's to improve service to the public.
  - a. The FAA will no longer be the consigned sales agent for these publications. The paper and microfiche books and biweekly supplements will now be purchased from the Government Printing Office (see appendices 2 and 3).
  - b. A new section, Rotorcraft, Gliders, Balloons, and Airships, has been added to the Small Aircraft and Rotorcraft books. This section groups, by manufacturer, all AD's which belong in this category.
  - c. Book 2 has been revised for 1996 to contain the AD's published from 1980 through 1989. Book 3 has been created to contain the AD's published from 1990 through 1995. All revised AD's have been replaced, and all superseded AD's have been removed. The March 1996 Index will reflect these revisions.
  - d. The older AD's are now available for purchase in electronic format on a CD-ROM. The new AD's (beginning with January 1996) are available free on an electronic bulletin board called FedWorld. The FedWorld area includes the latest biweekly index along with the preamble of each new AD (see appendix 4).

5. DESCRIPTION OF THE PAPER COPY.

- a. The AD summaries are published in six books. The Small Aircraft and Rotorcraft books relate to aircraft of 12,500 pounds or less maximum certificated takeoff weight and all rotorcraft regardless of weight. The Large Aircraft books relate to aircraft of more than 12,500 pounds maximum certificated takeoff weight except for rotorcraft.

- b. The AD's applicable to engines and propellers are contained in the respective small or large books. Appliance AD's are duplicated in the small and large books.
- c. Book 1 contains AD's issued prior to 1980 which are still in effect. If an AD from Book 1 is amended, it will appear in Book 2 or Book 3.
- d. Books 2 and 3 for small aircraft and rotorcraft are divided into five major subjects: (1) aircraft, (2) rotorcraft, gliders, balloons and airships, (3) engines, (4) propellers, and (5) appliances.
- e. Books 2 and 3 for large aircraft are divided into four major subjects: (1) aircraft, (2) engines, (3) propellers, and (4) appliances.
- f. Each of the six books may be purchased separately. The subscription to the biweekly supplements may be purchased separately. The titles and contents are:
