

One Search Box to Rule Them All? An Introduction to Web Scale Discovery

Leighton Christiansen

March 14, 2013, Iowa Department of Transportation Library

for Transportation Librarians Roundtable

Current Discovery Challenges

- Collection Size
- Format Variety
- Electronic Access
- Remotely Hosted Content
- Interface Diversity
- User search preferences
- Full Text Delivery

If something is not discovered, it cannot be used

Possible Solution

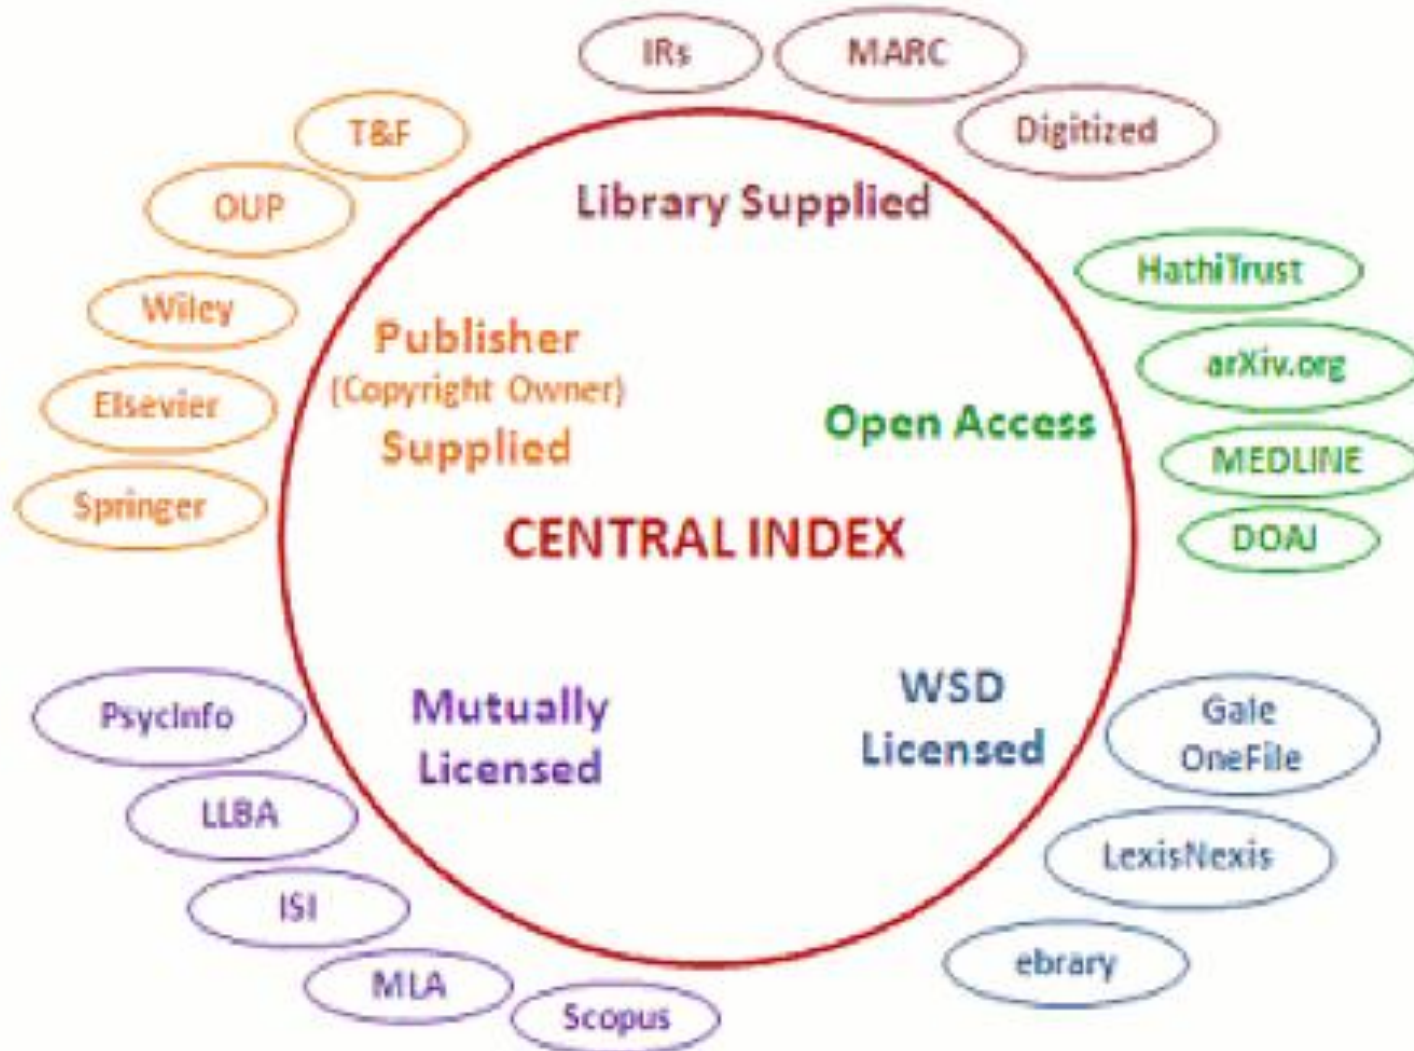

Web-Scale Discovery:

A preharvested central index coupled with a richly featured discovery layer that provides a single search across a library's local, open access, and subscription collections.

Carrying a metaphor too far
Web Scale Discovery: deep discovery within a vast ocean of content.

Web Scale Discovery?: Google

The image shows a Google search interface for the query "Moby-Dick". The search bar contains the text "Moby-Dick" and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar, the user's name "Leighton Christiansen" is displayed, along with a "Share" button and a profile picture. Below the search bar, there are navigation tabs for "Web", "Images", "Maps", "Shopping", "News", "More", and "Search tools". The "Web" tab is selected. Below the tabs, it says "About 35,700,000 results (0.16 seconds)".

The search results include several links:

The screenshot shows the 'Transportation Libraries Catalog Basic Search' interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the logo and the text 'Transportation Libraries Catalog' and 'Guest View'. Below the header, there are navigation links: 'MTKN Website', 'National Transp. Library', and 'TRIS Online'. A search instruction states: 'Enter search terms in one or more boxes and click on Search.' The main search area includes a 'Searching' tab and buttons for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', 'Expert Search', and 'Previous Searches'. A 'Go to page' dropdown is also present. Below this, there are icons for 'Intro', 'News', and 'Help', and the text 'Current database: Transportation Libraries Catalog'. The search form itself has a 'Search' button and a 'Clear' button. It displays 'Search in database: TLCat' with a description: 'OCLC catalog of transportation-related books and other materials held in government, university and other transportation libraries'. A 'Limit to:' dropdown is set to 'All Transportation Libraries'. There are five input fields: 'Keyword', 'Author', 'Title', 'ISBN' (with format 'NNNNNNNNNN'), and 'Year' (with format 'YYYY-YYYY'). Each field has a help icon. At the bottom of the search form, there are 'Search' and 'Clear' buttons. A footer bar contains language options: 'English', 'Español', 'Français', 'عربي', '日本語', '한국어', '中文(繁體)', '中文(简体)', and links for 'Options', 'Comments', and 'Exit'.

Transportation Libraries and First Search

The screenshot shows the Transportation Libraries Catalog interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the logo and the text "Transportation Libraries Catalog" and "Guest View". Below the header, the page title is "Transportation Libraries Catalog List of Records". On the right side, there are links for "MTKN Website", "National Transp. Library", and "TRIS Online".

Below the title, there are instructions: "Click on a title to see the detailed record." and "Click on a checkbox to mark a record to be e-mailed or printed in Marked Records." There are tabs for "Searching" and "Results", with "Results" being the active tab. On the right, there are links for "Staff View", "My Account", "Options", "Comments", "Exit", and "Hide tips".

The main content area has a navigation bar with "List of Records", "Detailed Record", and "Marked Records" tabs, and a "Go to page" dropdown. Below this is a toolbar with icons for "Sort", "Related Subjects", "Related Authors", "Limit", "E-mail Bib", "Print", "Export", and "Help". The search results are for "ti: Moby-Dick" and show "Records found: 56 Rank by: Number of Libraries". There is a "Save Search" link and a logo on the right.

Below the toolbar, there are navigation controls: "Prev", "1", "Next", and a "Search in:" dropdown set to "All Transportation Libraries" with a "Select" button. Below this are three filter buttons: "All 56", "Books 55", and "Visual 1". A red arrow points to the "Visual 1" button.

At the bottom, there is a "Limit results:" section with dropdowns for "Any Audience", "Any Content", and "Any Format", and a "Search" button. The results list shows two items:

Federated Search vs. Web Scale?

- One search engine, many resources, not-indexed, live
 - Resource search syntax?
 - New user credentials?
 - De-duplication of facets?
 - Relevancy is a guess
- One search engine, one massive index
 - 1 search syntax
 - Usually 1 credential
 - No dupes because of pre-harvesting, choose access
 - Relevancy? (not sure)

Full text?

1. What is the relationship between web scale discovery and full-text repositories? How do you think they complement, contrast, and/or otherwise relate to one another?
2. If a library wants to include a full-text repository in a discovery tool, how would you suggest it deal with the reduced recall searches? In other words, searching just metadata could greatly impact recall. Are there best practices (or any practices at all) in addressing this issue? We don't want to necessarily force users to go to a native interface to be sure they got everything.

Ownership?

Content ownership – who owns what content in discovery tools and how does that impact the access vs. ownership acquisitions issue, if at all?

Journal Selection in WSD Window

The screenshot shows the Iowa State University e-Library search results for 'Angewandte Chemie International Edition'. The search results are filtered to show 'Peer-reviewed Journals' (63,795), 'Full Text Online' (68,530), and 'Available in the Library' (3). The results list several items, including articles and journals. A detailed view of one journal entry is shown in a 'WSD Window' (Web Show Details window). This window displays the journal's title, 'Angewandte Chemie. International edition in English', and provides access information for the full text. It lists the source as 'Angewandte Chemie. International edition in English [0570-0833]' and provides links to full text available in the Wiley Online Library Chemistry Backfile (1962-1997), Wiley Online Library (1887-1997), and Wiley Online Library (1998-2003). The window also shows the journal's history, including translations and continuations.

Schnelle In-situ-Analysenmethoden wie im mittleren Infrarotbereich arbeitende optochemische Sensoren, die auf der Absorption evaneszierender Felder beruhen, können qualitative und quantitative Informationen über das Vorliegen flüchtiger organischer Verunreinigungen in Wasser liefern. In der Zuschrift auf S. 2321 ff. beschreiben B. Mizaikoff et al. einen planaren Faseroptiksensoren mit Copolymerüberzug, der die abgeschwächte Totalreflexion im Infrarotbereich misst. Solche Systeme können zur kontinuierlichen Überprüfung der Wasserqualität genutzt werden.

Resources

What resources (fiscal, human, etc.) does a library need to enter into web scale discovery game?

Challenges

- Patron search habits
- Infrastructure for WSD
- Institutional commitment
- Educating patrons
- Resources ($)
- Metadata
- Librarians & Catalogers

Conclusions

- New tech, tech breaks
- WSD can improve search precision
- Metadata is the key
 - Consistent
 - Robust
- Improved search and retrieval: lead patrons back into our collections

Thanks for listening
