INSTAGRAM

- ❑ A free photo-sharing app that specializes in the instant posting of pictures
- ❑ An image-based social media network available on iPhone and Android smartphones
- ❑ Connects users so that they can share their own snapshots and see those taken by others
- ❑ Provides a unique visual platform
- ❑ Made its debut in October 2010 and was purchased by Facebook in 2012

INSTAGRAM'S NOTEWORTHY FEATURES

- ❑ Equipped with filters and special effects to enhance pictures, and even further set them apart as your unique and original content
- ❑ A variety of interesting looks – make it appear that the photo was taken in the 1960s or that it came straight out of a scrapbook, can “frame” the photo in several ways (white or black border, rounded corners, ragged edges), and able to highlight the image in purple hues and other colors
- ❑ Other effects include keeping a certain part of the photo in focus while blurring the background
- ❑ Those photos can be shared via Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram itself
- ❑ Instagram makes use of hash tags; by entering a number sign before the key word, you can establish categories for your photos before uploading them

How Can Libraries Most Effectively Harness and Use Instagram?

- ❑ Show Off Your Materials and Collections
- ❑ Promote Events and Services
- ❑ Introduce Yourselves
- ❑ Hold Competitions

- ❑ Instagram is a means and not an end when it comes to library work and – even within the social media universe – is not the be-all and end-all when it comes to getting our jobs done
- ❑ However, Instagram – due in large part to its distinctive images and ever-growing popularity – can potentially serve as a helpful outreach tool in making others aware of the services and products we offer

“To say that Instagram is only about blurred and tinted images is like saying that the American currency is about cotton-linen slips of paper inscribed with uncapped pyramids and all-seeing eyes . . . Instagram is relentlessly making conquests – and in short order. Even people who don’t yet use the app can recognize in its distinctive photos a new visual [common language].”
