SUMMARY

This report, entitled "Availability Directories of Certified and Potentially Certifiable Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (DBE) and Historically Underutilized Businesses," is the third in a series of reports to be submitted through Project 980, "Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Capacity Study." The study was undertaken at the request of the Texas Department of Transportation in response to its obligations under Senate Bill 352, 72nd Texas State Legislature (Texas Revised Statutes, Article 6669C) to conduct a fact-finding study in support of a state-funds contracting and procurement program for businesses owned by minorities and women.

This report contains two availability directories of minority-owned and women-owned businesses operating in Texas. These directories have been customized to restrict coverage to firms that provide highway construction, maintenance, and other services regularly procured by TxDOT. The first directory, referred to as the DBE Availability & Outreach Directory and contained in Appendix A, focuses exclusively on firms providing highway construction and related goods and services. The second directory, referred to as the HUB Availability & Outreach Directory and contained in Appendix B, focuses exclusively on firms providing other services regularly procured by TxDOT through its Equipment and Procurement Division. Combined, these directories contain over 4,000 distinct entries in over 40 business categories.

We have had joint responsibility for this study. To assist in carrying out the assignment, we recruited a number of economic, financial, business, legal, and policy experts from both the public and private sectors. This draft report was prepared by Jon Wainwright, Research Director for Project 7-980 and a Research Associate at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs. He was assisted by Mr. John Wilton, Staff Research Assistant. Valuable assistance was also provided by Dr. Peter Balash.

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

This report contains two availability directories of minority-owned and women-owned businesses operating in Texas. These directories have been customized to restrict coverage to firms that provide highway construction, maintenance, and other services regularly procured by TxDOT. The first directory, referred to as the DBE Availability & Outreach Directory, focuses exclusively on firms providing highway construction and related goods and services. The second directory, referred to as the HUB Availability & Outreach Directory, focuses exclusively on firms providing other services regularly procured by TxDOT through its Equipment and Procurement division, D-4. Combined, these directories contain over 4,000 distinct entries in over 40 business categories (see Tables 1.1–1.4).

The purpose of this report is to provide TxDOT's Civil Rights Division with resources to assist it in identifying DBE and HUB firms with the potential to be brought into the TxDOT procurement process. The resources provided in this report constitute a rich source of information on such businesses. Both directories contain firm listings sub-divided by category of work and by geographic location. Each firm listing includes a business name and address information, work category information, and information regarding race, ethnicity, and sex. Each directory includes directions for effective use. Each directory also includes an electronic (machine-readable) version suitable for development into an outreach mailing list.

Owing to the dynamic nature of business enterprise, even the best directories will eventually become outdated. This report provides two additional resources designed to compensate for this situation. First, the report includes the most up-to-date annotated bibliography of national, regional, statewide, and local DBE directories and listings available. Second, the report contains a comprehensive listing of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes that are economically related to highway construction and maintenance and to the other needs of the Department. Together, these two additional resources will allow the Civil Rights division to customize their own in-house availability and outreach library as they see fit.

Two caveats are appropriate to include. First, some of the firms in these two directories will already be familiar to the Department. Most, however, will not, and therefore will represent a new source of DBE firms with certification potential. Second, as there can be no guarantees that every firm listed in these directories is ready, willing, and able to provide the types of construction and other services required by the Department, it is obviously up to TxDOT to reach out to the listed firms and to make that determination for itself. Nevertheless, as we have just described, every effort has been made in the production of these directories to target the work categories as closely as possible to TxDOT's needs—in terms both of work category and geographic location. This closely-targeted approach is designed to improve the overall efficiency of the Department's DBE and HUB outreach efforts.

CHAPTER 2: INTRODUCTION TO THE DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE (DBE) AVAILABILITY & OUTREACH DIRECTORY

To produce the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Availability/ Outreach Directory, researchers from six Texas universities collected information on DBE's from throughout the state and nation. Fourteen distinct local, regional, state, and national listings of DBE and HUB firms were collected. From these 14 listings, we culled a select group of firms operating in highway construction and other construction-related fields for inclusion in the directory. The titles of the directories used to create this report are presented in Table 2.1.

With the exception of the City of Houston, each directory lists the company name, street address, city, state, zip code, contact person, phone number, minority status, and business description. Some directories provide additional business information, such as Standard Industrial Classification codes and geographic market area.

This chapter also includes a comprehensive listing of Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes in which TxDOT interacts with the private sector. This listing will allow TxDOT to more closely target its outreach efforts to be restricted to industrial categories with which the Department regularly does business.

CHAPTER 3: INTRODUCTION TO THE HISTORICALLY UNDERUTILIZED BUSINESS (HUB) AVAILABILITY & OUTREACH DIRECTORY

To produce the HUB Availability & Outreach Directory, researchers obtained and customized the centralized HUB vendor directory maintained for the State of Texas by the General Services Commission (GSC). The service class codes and class title included in the HUB directory are presented in Table 3.1. Also, for each class included in Table 3.1, specific item codes are presented in the rightmost column. These item codes represent the greatest level of detail available regarding the specific types of goods and services TxDOT procures within each class. Only those contractors and vendors indicating that they could provide the specific item codes listed were selected for inclusion in this directory.

These item codes were derived based on an analysis of TxDOT's services purchasing patterns over the last several years. Services purchase order data was examined for fiscal years 1991, 1992, and 1993, and the corresponding class and item codes were extracted for each purchase. The team wishes to acknowledge the gracious assistance of Mr. Sil Romero and Ms. Janet Hasty, both of TxDOT's D-4 division in securing this data for purposes of analysis by the team. For additional information on the State's system for identifying supplies, equipment, and services see General Services Commission (1992).

After the customized listing of TxDOT class-item codes has been developed, it was cross-referenced with the General Services Commission's 1992 HUB directory by class and item code. The team wishes to acknowledge the gracious assistance of Mr. Sal Valdez of the General Services Commission in securing an electronic version of the 1992 HUB class-item file and the HUB directory. The resulting list of state-certified HUB firms was then sorted by class code to create the HUB Availability & Outreach Directory. This list contains more than 1,950 firms in 28 distinct service categories. Each entry provides the firm's name, address, city, state, zip code, and telephone number. Also included with each record is the firm's state vendor identification number, minority and gender status, a business description, and a list of the specific item codes it provides within each class.

CHAPTER 4: ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MINORITY-OWNED AND WOMEN-OWNED BUSINESS DIRECTORIES

This chapter presents the most up-to-date annotated bibliography of national, regional, statewide, and local DBE directories and listings available to the research team. The annotated bibliography provides each directory's geographic coverage, author(s), publication dates, ordering information, categories of work presented, and race/ethnicity/sex categories. This product can be used to enhance the Civil Rights Division's ability to keep their availability and outreach information current. What follows is a detailed breakdown of the information in each of the fourteen directories used to compile the Project 7-980 DBE Availability & Outreach Directory.

Firms are listed by state, in alphabetical order, in each category. An extensive keyword index in the front of the book (pg. i-2) helps you locate products and services. An alphabetical listing of firms (pg. ii-1) appears at the back of the directory.
Example:	<table border="0"> <thead> <tr> <th>Sec.</th> <th>Category</th> <th>TRY US #</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>17</td> <td>Construction: General Contractors</td> <td>2235 - 2506</td> </tr> <tr> <td>25</td> <td>Engineering & Surveying Services</td> <td>3240 - 3513</td> </tr> </tbody> </table>		Sec.	Category	TRY US #	17	Construction: General Contractors	2235 - 2506	25	Engineering & Surveying Services	3240 - 3513

Note:	Because of the directory's extensive keyword index, identifying prospective suppliers for specific purchases will, in the majority of cases, be quite simple. If there is an instance where a particular product or service is not listed in the keyword index, call the TRY US Resources office at (612) 781-6819 for assistance.
Construction Categories:	The category "Construction: General Contractors" lists the contractors by alpha and gives their capabilities (see Field example above). There is no standardized format like the SIC code/title system. Likewise, heavy construction and non-residential construction are not listed in the table of classification (nor are plumbers or carpenters).

CHAPTER 5: COMPREHENSIVE LISTING OF SIC INDUSTRIES RELEVANT TO TXDOT MISSION

This chapter presents a listing of Standard Industrial Classification, or SIC, codes that will provide the Department with a detailed guide to the numerous industries it interacts with. With this comprehensive listing TxDOT can more readily determine which firms in any given particular directory are relevant to the Department's DBE mission.

The SIC system is the statistical classification standard underlying all federal economic statistics and most state and local economic statistics that are classified by industry. According to the most recent edition (1987) of the SIC manual, "[t]he classification covers the entire field of economic activities and defines industries in accordance with the composition and structure of the economy [and has been] revised periodically to reflect the economy's changing industrial organization." The 1987 manual represents the first major revision to the SIC system since 1972 (Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget 1987, 3).

Attachment No. 4 to the Statement of Work issued by TxDOT for this study lists four principal work categories in which the Department has ongoing procurement and contracting requirements: (A) Construction, (B) Maintenance, (C) Goods/Services, and (D) Spot Purchases. Each of these categories, in turn, is composed of several more specific sub-categories. The categories and sub-categories from Attachment No. 4 appear below.

A. Construction

Asphalt Paving, Concrete Paving, Engineering, Fencing, Hauling, Illumination, Landscaping, Major Structures, Material Suppliers, Minor Structures and Miscellaneous Concrete, Painting, Rest Areas, Traffic Control Devices, Underground and Utility Work, Earthwork, Base and Sub-base.

B. Maintenance

Mowing, Landscape Maintenance, Litter Pickup and Disposal, Guardrail Repair, Sign Maintenance, Trimming and Removing Trees, Painting Structures, Pavement Marker Repair, Pavement Maintenance, Pothole Repair, Bridge Repair, Concrete Repair, Riprap Repair, Ditch Cleaning, Street Sweeping.

C. Goods/Services

Table 5.2 represents a cross-tabulation of Table 5.1 by SIC code. In other words, it is a numerically-ordered master list of all SIC codes included in Table 5.1. For each SIC code listed, the table gives its short title and also an indication of specific industry items within each four-digit SIC code of particular interest to the Department. For convenience, Table 5.2 presents appropriate codes from both the 1987 and the 1972 editions of the SIC.
