STATEMENT BY SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION BROCK ADAMS ON INTRODUCTION OF REVISED AIRLINE REGULATORY REFORM LEGISLATION IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FEBRUARY 25, 1978

I am pleased that the leadership of the House Committee on Public Works and Transportation has introduced new airline regulatory reform legislation in time for the beginning of markups next week. The continuing efforts of the committee leadership to produce a bill acceptable to the majority have helped to keep momentum for reform alive in the Congress. This is further evidence that airline regulatory reform is indeed an issue whose time has come.
