

The Secretary of Transportation
Washington, DC 20590

A Forum for the Future
"Opportunities & Challenges for Transportation in the 21st Century"

As part of the Department of Transportation's 30th anniversary celebration, the afternoon forum being held on President Lyndon B. Johnson's birthday will provide an opportunity for us to look ahead to the future of transportation with the same vision and vigilance that President Johnson had when he first sent legislation to the Congress calling for the Department's creation. I hope that you will join me and our invited transportation panelists in a forum and discussion on the workforce, technology and infrastructure needs of transportation in the new millennium.
