DELLIBOVI SWORN IN AS UMTA ADMINISTRATOR

Alfred A. DelliBovi, Deputy Administrator of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) for the past four years, has been sworn in as Administrator of the agency by Secretary of Transportation Jim Burnley.

Burnley said, "Al has been extremely valuable and effective as Deputy Administrator. He knows the important UMTA issues and programs, and the Department is lucky to have him on the team."

The Urban Mass Transportation Administration provides grants-in-aid to local public mass transit systems throughout the United States and has an annual budget of about $3 billion.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence shown in me by President Reagan and Secretary Burnley and for the opportunity to serve in this position," DelliBovi said. "I look forward to helping meet the challenges facing mass transportation today through innovative programs involving government at all levels and the private sector."

DelliBovi, 41, served from January 1984 to December 1987 as UMTA's Deputy Administrator. In that position, he assisted in the disbursement of Federal financial assistance to almost 4,000 transit providers nationwide and in development of public-private partnerships designed to enhance mass transportation service. He was also instrumental in implementation of the agency's streamlined grants management process.

Prior to his appointment as Deputy Administrator, DelliBovi served from 1981-84 as UMTA's Regional Administrator in New York. As former high school teacher, DelliBovi was elected to four terms as a member of the New York State Assembly. He also has been a successful real estate investor and developer.

A native New Yorker, DelliBovi graduated from Fordham College, and he holds a Master of Public Administration Degree from Baruch College (City University of New York).
